

MINERAL POINT BANK IS ROBBED

Burglars Entered It Last Night and Carried Away Over $30,000.

WAS ALL IN GOLD CASH

Got in Through the Roof and Used Nitro-Glycerine on the Safes.

ESCAPED LEAVING NO CLUE

Mineral Point, Wis., May 25.—The First National bank of this city was robbed last night of $30,000 in currency.

The greatest excitement prevails among the people and posses are out scouring the country in every direction to find the perpetrators of the steal.

It appears that about three o'clock this morning the robbers gained entrance to the bank, a frame structure through the roof, and into the vault which contained the safes.

Used Nitro-Glycerine With the use of nitro-glycerine they burst open the safes and possessed themselves of the contents—some thirty odd thousand dollars stored there.

Today was pay day for many of the factories at the Point and this accounts for the large amount of money on deposit. The thieves must have known of this fact.

Entered Through the Roof The hole in the roof and through the vault showed that the burglars had plenty of time and did their work deliberately. The use of nitro-glycerine also showed the work of experts.

The two safes in the vault were blown apart just enough to allow them to get the money.

The bank building is in the center of the business section of the city, but detached from the other buildings, and the operations of the burglars did not attract any attention.

Absolutely no Clue Absolutely no clue whatever had been obtained at noon as to the identity of the robbers. They seem to have escaped with their booty and left no trace of any kind.

The First National Bank of Mineral Point is the leading bank of the city. It has a capitalization of $100,000. R. N. Penhalligon is president and Philip Allen, Jr., cashier.

Bank Is Fully Insured The bank is insured in the Fidelity & Casualty Company of Philadelphia against robbery and will recover the full amount taken by the burglars. So the loss, if the money is not recovered, will fall on the Eastern concern.

Efforts to Capture Robbers The insurance company was notified early this morning and it has sent its agents with several detectives from Chicago, who arrived here about one o'clock this afternoon. A determined effort will be made to run down and capture the bold burglars.

Parties from this city who saw the wrecked bank this morning say the force used to open the safes was terrific. The sides of the building were seamed with cracks caused by the force of the explosion. In one place a half dollar had been blown into the wood work edgewise so that not more than a quarter of an inch of it was left sticking out.

The robbers overlooked a considerable sum of money in their hurry. They left a bag of gold, some currency and a lot of silver which was too heavy for them to get away with ease.

The entrance to the building was gained by the way of the roof. A sapling had been cut in the woods by the robbers and small cleats nailed to it, which made a light ladder for use in getting on the roof.

It is supposed the robbers came overland as a horse and buggy were stolen at Belleville, about eight o'clock in the evening. Belleville is about thirty-five miles from Mineral Point and the robbers would have had plenty of time to drive from the place where the horse was stolen to the bank between the hours of eight o'clock at night and three in the morning.

TO TEACH TOBACCO CULTURE

Plan at University—$1,000,000 a Year Lost in Bad Curing

Statements printed in a number of Wisconsin papers that there is a special course provided at the state university for teaching tobacco culture are in error, says the State Journal. Assistant Dean A. R. Moore states that several years ago experiments in tobacco culture were conducted but these have been abandoned.

ed. It is planned to have studies along the line recommended in the near future.

There is a crying need for the teaching of proper methods of curing leaf. The farmers of the state are losing $1,000,000 a year because of defective curing houses. The industry in Wisconsin is growing in gigantic proportions. There is not a first class American made cigar which does not have Wisconsin tobacco as a binder, and that the 35,000,000 pounds raised each year, is insufficient to supply the demands for it. In fact the demand will make a boom in Wisconsin tobacco and at once.

Wisconsin has about 30,000 acres in tobacco. The average yield per acre is about 1,200 pounds. The crop is harvested in August and September and the bunches are hung in tobacco sheds or barns to dry and cure. This drying takes about three or four months.

HOLY HILL HAS AN OPENING FEAST

One Thru and Wash piers Take Part in Services and Visit Stations of the Cross.

Hartford, Wis., May 25.—The opening feast at the season at Holy Hill was celebrated yesterday. The cold and rainy weather prevented the usual large crowd from being present, but at least 1,000 people gathered in the church on the summit. These were mostly from Chicago and Milwaukee. During the afternoon six masses were said. Father Schaaf of Fusselsville acted as celebrant, Father Thiesen of Granville as deacon, and Father Berg of Richfield as subdeacon. Father Hellinger of Nennon preached the German sermon and Father Thiesen the English. The music was furnished by St. Killian's choir.

In the afternoon the stations of the cross which are placed at intervals on the road up the hill were made by the pilgrims. The next feast day will be on July 2, in commemoration of the visitation.

DEAD AND MISSING ARE PLACED AT 77

Great Destruction of Life in a Mine Explosion in Wales—Eleven Killed in Germany.

London, May 25.—A dispatch from Senghenith, Wales, where one hundred and fifty miners are reported to have been killed in a colliery, says that there is small hope that any of those entombed in the mine are alive. The dead and missing are placed at 77.

Eleven Miners Killed Berlin, May 25.—Eleven miners were killed in an explosion in the Prince Pless mine near Waldenburg today.

THE WESTERN GOLF ASSOCIATION DATES

Chicago, May 25.—Edward P. Martin, secretary of the Western Golf association announced this morning that the following members of the W. G. A. have written him requesting to be allowed the dates mentioned for their open tournament, in which all golfers belonging to clubs in the organization are eligible to compete: Algheny Country club, Pittsburg, Pa. June 13, 14 and 15. Chicago Golf club of Wheaton, Ill. October 2, 3, 4 and 5. Mississippi Golf club, Janesville, Wis. July 18, 19 and 20. Milwaukee Country club, Milwaukee, Wis. changed from July to August 1, 2, and 3. The Mississippi meeting is the annual tournament of the Wisconsin Golf association, and Secretary Martin was unable to say yesterday if any of the events were open to players outside of Wisconsin.

CLAYTON BULWER TREATY

Senator Lodge Will Ask Congress to Abrogate It Entirely

Washington, May 25.—It is said that Senator Lodge will probably be the chairman of the committee on foreign relations, intends to work during the next session of congress for a complete abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty. He will attempt to secure such legislation as will give the United States complete control of the proposed Isthmian canal.

Large Subscription List

The subscription list for the production of the "Evil Eye" which Manager Myers has secured, for June 3 is the largest ever produced for any attraction in this city and indications are that all of the $1 seats will be sold on this sale. The list has been placed in F. C. Cook & Co's. display window and those who have not already secured seats may have further opportunity to sign the list until Tuesday. The attraction is being elaborately billed and some unusually attractive paper is being put up.

SEASON'S LARGEST TOBACCO SALE; 2,000 CASES BROUGHT $70,000

Soverhill & Porter Sold Their Entire Packing of 1900 Leaf to J. Friedman & Co. of Chicago—The Price Paid Was a High One

The largest tobacco sale made in this city this season was effected yesterday when Soverhill & Porter sold their entire packing of 1900 leaf to J. Friedman & Co. of Chicago. The packing included 2,000 cases and the consideration was $70,000. The sale is an important one, not only on account of its size, but more especially because of the price paid. The price, being a high one, establishes the good standing of the 1900 crop of Wisconsin tobacco and goes far towards refuting the charges made earlier in the season by a prominent firm that the crop was inferior in quality.

Consequently the significance and value of the sale extends beyond this one business transaction alone and affects materially all the local dealers and in fact all holders of new Wisconsin leaf. It will have an influence on the market that will be warmly welcomed by dealers and growers as additional evidence of the excellence of the 1900 crop of Wisconsin tobacco.

The sale included what is known in tobacco circles as Soverhill & Porter's entire packing, being the high-grades of leaf from table fillers up. The cheaper fillers were sorted out and Soverhill & Porter have 1,000 cases of from 3 to 4 cent leaf which they have packed for export. J. Friedman & Co. are now the largest holders of the new tobacco in Chicago and Soverhill & Porter only regret that their packing was not twice as large as they could have sold 4,000 cases as easily as they did the 2,000.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH QUARREL GROWING

Ritual War Between the High and Low Factions in the State of Wisconsin is Getting Bitter.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 25.—The tension in the Episcopal church of the state of Wisconsin between the high church, or ritualistic, party and the broad church party is growing. Both the bishops of the Milwaukee and Fond du Lac dioceses are members of the ritualistic party, while on the other hand the strongest churches in both of the parishes are thoroughly broad church.

The tension in the Fond du Lac diocese has been until recently more strained than in the Milwaukee diocese, but it is likely that the mass for the dead, which is alleged to have been said at the cathedral on Monday at the service of the Guild of the Good Saints and the subsequent scathing criticism of that service by Rev. Charles Stanley Lester of St. Paul's church will bring matters to as strong a focus here as they now are in the Fond du Lac diocese. That the whole matter will finally get before the council of the bishops is also a certainty. The feeling between both parties is so great that an open rupture cannot be postponed much longer.

PATTERN MAKERS OUT ON A STRIKE

Milwaukee, May 25.—Upwards of 130 pattern makers employed in the various machine shops of the city went on a strike this morning between ten and eleven o'clock.

BELOIT MEN ARE CONFIDENT

Believe They Can Meet Terms of Dr. Pearson's Promise

Chicago, May 25.—The trustees of Beloit college met at the Union League club last night to discuss the prospects for raising the $150,000 required to secure the donation of $200,000 from Dr. D. K. Pearson for the endowment fund. Dr. Pearson some months ago agreed to donate the sum named, provided the trustees would raise the remainder of the necessary $350,000 before commencement day, June 21.

Chairman E. H. Pitkin announced that the efforts of the friends of the college had been fairly successful, and that there was every reason to believe that the endowment of $350,000 would be an accomplished fact within a month.

ALMOST KILLS AGED FATHER.

Frank Schroeder Assaults Octogenarian Parent at Bloomington.

Bloomington, Ill., May 25.—Frank Schroeder, aged 45, made a murderous assault upon his father, Dr. Herman Schroeder, one of the wealthiest and most prominent men of Bloomington. Dr. Schroeder is 81 years old and one of the pioneers of the county. The younger Schroeder was beating his wife and little children, when his father interfered. The son drew a big knife and stabbed his father in the abdomen. The knife luckily struck a truss, thus preventing murder. The knife glanced and inflicted a wound nearly two inches long. Frank was seized by some workmen and held until taken in charge by the sheriff. Dr. Schroeder's advanced age renders the outcome of the injury doubtful, though no vital organ was injured.

Storm in Tennessee

Nashville, Tenn., May 25.—A storm passed over Tennessee last night, doing heavy damage in several counties. Wires, churches, houses, barns and fences are down. So far as reported no lives were lost.

TO TEST OSTEOPATH LAW

Practitioners Plan Move To Bring Its Provisions Into Court

Portage, Wis., May 25.—Dr. A. C. Kellogg of this city says a movement is on foot to test the constitutionality of the medical law passed by the last legislature, commonly known as the osteopathy law. Under its provisions there appears to be discrimination, it is said, in that some are required to pay a large fee to the board and submit to an examination, while others are exempted from these requirements. The test case will probably originate here.

Boers Were Repulsed:

Pretoria, May 25.—One hundred Boers today attacked a patrol of British who were occupying a farm house. The Boers were repulsed, losing fifteen killed and seventeen wounded. One Britisher wounded.

RASSEUR WILL BE AT SHEBOYGAN

National Commander-in-Chief of the G. A. R. Will Attend Badger State Encampment.

Madison, Wis., May 25.—Department Commander D. G. James of the Wisconsin division of the G. A. R. has finished his general order regarding the annual encampment to be held at Sheboygan, June 19 and 20, and will issue it tomorrow. He announces that Commander-in-Chief Leo Rasseur of St. Louis will be present and address the encampment. It is expected that the presence of the commander-in-chief will serve to attract a large attendance, the department commander now estimating it at fully 1,500.

The business session of the encampment will meet at Sheboygan opera house at ten o'clock on the morning of June 19. The council of administration and the committee on credentials, the order announces, will meet in the reception room of the Hotel Foeste at 7:30 o'clock on the preceding evening.

TRIES MURDER, KILLS HIMSELF

Attempted Double Tragedy in Philadelphia Hotel Ends in Suicide.

Philadelphia, May 25.—Prompted by jealousy, John A. Jenkins of No. 143 North Thirteenth street committed suicide at the Terminal Hotel, No. 1431 Filbert street. He also planned to kill his companion, Mae Barbour of No. 219 North Thirteenth street, but she escaped after a thrilling experience. She said Jenkins told her she had "but half an hour to live," as he intended to kill her. Then, standing over her with a drawn revolver, he forced her to write a farewell letter to her people. After that and been done she pleaded to have something to drink. When the waiter came she dashed to the window screaming, and was hanging out when Detective Pierce and Detective Hayne rushed into the room. Jenkins dashed down the stairs and shot himself in the right temple at the third-story landing. A letter which he had prepared was as follows:

"To the authorities: Kindly notify my brother-in-law, John T. Murphy, of this happy event. No. 256 Prospect place, Brooklyn, N. Y. This is the ultimate results of gambling and a dissipated life. Let it be a warning to young men to leave fast horses, women and slow horses alone."

CABINET PLACE FOR CORTELYOU

Rumor That Secretary Will Be Postmaster-General.

San Francisco, Cal., May 25.—The Chronicle publishes the following: The following dispatch was received from Washington last night:

"Seemingly reliable information has been received here that George B. Cortelyou, secretary to the president, is soon to receive a substantial promotion. It is said that the president intends to put him in the cabinet, providing matters work out as he now anticipates. In spite of explicit denials, the story still goes around that Postmaster-General Smith will soon retire and that this is the place which rumor says Cortelyou is to have."

Secretary Cortelyou was asked regarding the dispatch, but he declined to be interviewed, and would neither affirm nor deny the truth of the report. Postmaster-General Smith could not be seen. Members of the presidential party, however, who had held conversation with Postmaster-General Smith before leaving Washington concerning his rumored retirement from the cabinet said that there was no truth in the report and that the postmaster-general had no intention of retiring.

McKinley and Party Start East.

San Francisco, May 25.—President McKinley and his party began their homeward trip at 10 o'clock today. A final consultation of physicians was held at the Scott residence and it was decided that Mrs. McKinley has regained her strength so rapidly that she is able to stand the journey. The trip will be made in rather leisurely fashion, in order to lessen the fatigue of Mrs. McKinley, but no unnecessary stop will be made and no side trip will be undertaken.

EXERCISES ON MEMORIAL DAY

The Local G. A. R. Post Has Arranged for a Large Parade.

DECORATE THE GRAVES

Services at the Cemetery in the Morning Without Public Ceremony.

COURT HOUSE PARK PROGRAM

At the regular meeting of W. H. Sargent Post, No. 20, G. A. R. held last evening, arrangements were completed for the afternoon program for Memorial day. The decoration of the graves in the morning will be without public ceremony and will be conducted by the Grand Army and the Woman's Relief Corps.

In the afternoon the Grand army, Co. I of the Wisconsin National Guard and the ex-soldiers of the Spanish-American war will form on River street and will move up Milwaukee street to High street where all citizens in carriages and others who desire to participate in the Memorial parade will fall in line.

The line of march will be short and direct, the parade marching from the Grand hotel east on Milwaukee street and south on Main street to the Court House park where the exercises will be held. The Imperial band has been hired for the occasion and the G. A. R. drum corps will also furnish music. The parade will be ready to move from the Grand hotel at two o'clock.

The program of exercises will be held from the east steps of the court house, Post commander, W. J. McIntyre having been appointed president of the day. Mayor Victor Richardson will give a brief opening address following his remarks at the request of the committee, with the readings of Abraham Lincoln's address at Gettysburg. This immortal address is read every Memorial day wherever a Grand Army post has charge of the exercises, it being a part of the G. A. R. general orders for the day.

The principal address of the day will be made by the Rev. S. G. Huey, pastor of the Rock Prairie Presbyterian church, who will be the orator of the day. Rev. Father W. A. Goebel will be the chaplain of the day and vocal music will be furnished by the male quartet.

Members of the Grand Army and Woman's Relief Corps will be guests of honor at the Memorial exercises at the Congregational church tomorrow morning and at the high school Wednesday evening. Capt. Pliny Norcross has been chosen as the G. A. R. representative to give the address at the high school and the balance of the program will be arranged by the Junior class.

LARGEST FUNERAL SINCE LINCOLN'S

Ex-Gov. Tanner's Remains to Lie in State at Springfield Tomorrow—Great Crowds Coming In.

Springfield, Ill., May 25.—Ex-Gov. Tanner's remains will be removed from his residence to the state house at five o'clock on Sunday morning. At eight o'clock the public will be admitted. The funeral procession will start at one thirty. The casket is to be borne to the cathedral and cemetery by six sergeants of infantry.

Many people are pouring into the city to see the funeral which promises to be the largest in the state since Lincoln's.

The funeral procession will be led by Gov. Yates and staff and a platoon of police and distinguished guests, militia and civic orders.

Can Win Hungarian Market.

Washington, May 25.—The United States has only to step in and win the market," says Consul F. D. Chester at Budapest, in a communication to the state department in reference to the coal situation in Hungary. He says the coal question has become more important for Hungary, which is a heavy importer of coal, than the problem of her industrial development.

Home for Newspaper Men.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 25.—The International League of Press Clubs' Benevolent association has filed articles of incorporation in Union county, New Jersey. The association will erect a home at New Orange, N. J., for aged and indigent newspaper workers and also those who by sickness or casualty shall be rendered incapable of following their profession.

A. S. Flagg of Edgerton was in the city today on business.

Just Between Ourselves

If there be any man or woman among you who wants to study human nature at its queerest my advice to you is to go into the newspaper business. You will find out more queer things about people in a month there than the ordinary mortal will in a life time. We are a peculiar people and sooner or later the peculiarities all turn up at the newspaper office and let me whisper to you that that they make a bunch that would try the patience of Job. But the newspaper fiend is generally blessed with a peculiar disposition too and the ability to see the humorous side of things often prevents a case of temporary nervous prostration and turns exasperation into amusement.

Of course whether it be amusement or exasperation which is felt all traces must be carefully concealed for professional honor demands that the personal peculiarities betrayed in a newspaper office must not be subject for gossip. Besides the newspaper man is supposed to be a machine without the feelings common to the rest of humanity. If you do not like the way he conducts his business you are at perfect liberty to tell him so in the most vigorous language. You would think it discourteous to abuse another man to his face, to criticize so freely his business methods, to tell him so frankly where he makes mistakes but you find no discourtesy in "roasting" the publisher, the editor or the reporter. What is more, he would be presumptuous if he resented it.

But that is not what I started to say, which is that of all the unreasonable people with whom a newspaper has to deal, the man who wants to suppress news is the most unreasonable. Perhaps he is a young man who drinks heavily and has done so for years. Everybody knows it. He has made a fool of himself more than once but it never strikes him to be ashamed of that. Finally, it happens, that while drunk he does something a little worse than usual, gets run in, comes up before the court and is fined.

Then he visits the newspaper office and such a plea as he makes—not for his sake, oh no—but for the sake of his poor mother. She would feel terribly if his name should come out in the paper as being arrested and fined and for her innocent sake he begs that his name be left out of the court happenings.

The plea would touch a heart of stone and sometimes the vision of the poor, broken-hearted mother accomplishes its mission but oh, the unreasonableness of the request! It seems to me that any one with a spark of manly respect for himself or a faint idea of justice, would be ashamed to make it.

He, the mother's own son, has trampled on her feelings day after day, has disregarded her pleadings and proceeded steadily in the evil of his way regardless of the fact that he is breaking her heart and yet he has the assurance to ask a stranger to show a kinder regard, a greater mercy for her than he has been willing to show. He does not feel sorry for her because he has disgraced his name nor because he has been arrested but his filial affection is tortured with the fear that she may read of it in the paper.

A man gets involved in a disgraceful entanglement and something happens to make it public property. It is told freely on the street corners and is in everyone's mouth. The man's name is not spared and no restraint is made on the comments and criticisms which are made. People do not hesitate to call him a fool if they choose and do not feel any compunctions of conscience as they retell over and over again the scandalous details connected with the affair. They do not mind words but do their best to give the gossip wide circulation.

Let a newspaper give a plain statement of the facts which make it public news, avoiding all references of a damaging character, and what an outcry is raised! People who have reveled in digging up anything having any connection with the affair are loud in their reproaches. They want the story printed, indeed, they would like all the details that can be scraped together, but the man's name should be suppressed.

What folly, when it is a matter of public knowledge! The man poses as a martyr and bitterly complains that the paper is trying to give him the worst of it and the people who were blackening his character, as the newspaper was careful not to do, in their gossip but a few hours before, cluster around and condole with him.

Lacking all charity in their own treatment, they are the first to declare the publication of the man's name a shame. "That article will cost him his position," they cry and in so crying they know they are uttering a falsehood. The facts back of the article, probably no intimation of which was made, may lead to the man's discharge but for that he alone is responsible. If he knowingly persists in a course of action which keeps his head on the block, he has no one to blame but himself if the axe falls. And yet, with the greatest disregard for justice, he and his friends ignore that fact and lay the blame at an innocent party's door.

The friends do not seem to realize that their gossip, which is far more incriminating, may reach the employer's ears. The man does not at all mind the fact that the public knows of his actions and that he is a subject of general gossip. The disgrace, which he tacitly acknowledges by his indignation and his declaration that "some one has it in for him," does not bother him but he is ashamed to look his own name in the face when it is spelled out in cold type.

The newspaper is an impersonal agent for the distribution of news. That is what people expect of it when they become subscribers. No axes of malice are wielded in its office, no "knockers" with little hammers are on its force. If a murder is committed, that information, (and incidentally domestic circumstances that were strictly private affairs before) belongs to the public and must be published regardless of the personal feeling of the members of the editorial staff for the murderer and his family. Nevertheless a newspaper, nor those employed on it are not responsible if the murderer receives a life sentence in the penitentiary as a penalty for his crime.

This is just as true of disagreeable occurrences of lesser magnitude. Court proceedings, for instance, are public property and the man who is not ashamed to have his name written on the court records should not object to its being published in the paper. His effort to keep his name to himself and his solicitude for his mother should govern his own actions and not be inflicted on the conduct of the public chronicle of events.

After all it is the old story of not being ashamed of the sin but of being found out. This seems especially true when a man, who "doesn't care for himself," you know, but for his mother, forgets all his consideration for his mother immediately after his bit of newspaper notoriety blows over and continues to risk his position which was made such a feature in playing on public sympathy.

It would seem that all of the worry induced in by disinterested parties would be put to better use on some one who has a little regard for himself. Certainly they might be in better business than making a hero and a martyr out of one who has reaped only what he has sown and not his full share at that. L. F. B.

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETICS.

Thirty-Eight High Schools Enter Inter-scholastic Meet at Madison.

Madison, Wis., May 25—Entries for the interscholastic high school meet of Wisconsin, which is to be held here on June 1, closed today. Thirty-eight schools, with a total of 277 individual contestants, will take part in the meet. All the principal cities of the state are represented, and the indications are that the meet will surpass in every way those previously held. The West Side High school of Milwaukee is considered the most formidable participant, and if it wins the meet, it will retain permanent possession of the interscholastic cup which it has already captured twice. The entries of the different schools are:

West Side, Milwaukee	18	Port Washington	4
Evansville	12	Grand Rapids	4
Wisconsin academy	1	Appleton, 3d ward	4
South Side, Milw.	15	Appleton, 2d ward	4

VEHICLES IN GREAT DEMAND

Residents of the Surrounding Country Make Heavy Purchases.

If one is to judge from the large number of high class vehicles that have been sold during the past four weeks by the Wisconsin Carriage Company of Janesville, to farmers and residents in the small surrounding towns in Rock county, it is quite evident that the best vehicle is none too good for country use. Rubber tire rigs in large number have been sold of late by the Wisconsin company to farmers. The day has long since passed when the farmer was more than pleased with a buggy costing $40. It is also a known fact that rubber tires are durable on all kinds of roads and that with proper care a set will last at least three years. The cost of a set of these tires is trifling when one considers the comfort derived. No more reliable tire is today on the market than the Kelly-Springfield patent and for Janesville and vicinity the Wisconsin company have the exclusive right to handle this famous make. If necessary these tires can be placed on your buggy in a day. In the large steam heated and perfectly lighted repository conducted by the Wisconsin company at their West Milwaukee street factory, over fifty different styles of vehicles are shown. If the intending buggy purchaser fails to find here just what he has been looking for he must be hard to suit. The styles embrace every known variety from the stylish, stately Stanhope to the cheap priced run-about wagon. The Wisconsin company have at all times been most reasonable in their charges. Unlike the far away manufacturer they are here to make right any wrong. Their large factory is now rushed with work. One hundred hands are employed. Visitors are most cordially invited to inspect their repository and factory and at all times during week days their welcome will be a most hearty one.

The friends do not seem to realize that their gossip, which is far more incriminating, may reach the employer's ears. The man does not at all mind the fact that the public knows of his actions and that he is a subject of general gossip. The disgrace, which he tacitly acknowledges by his indignation and his declaration that "some one has it in for him," does not bother him but he is ashamed to look his own name in the face when it is spelled out in cold type.

PHYSICIANS WILL JOIN IN DEBATE

Doctors of the Different Schools Will Meet at Waukesha on June 27.

An event unprecedented in the history of medicine of Wisconsin will take place at Waukesha, June 27, when the Homeopathic Medical society of Wisconsin, the Wisconsin Medical society and the Wisconsin State Eclectic Medical society will meet there in joint session. This will be the first time that societies of practitioners in different schools of medicine have deliberately joined in the harmonious discussion of medical topics in this state. Notice of the joint session has just been made by Dr. W. W. Irving, secretary of the Homeopathic medical society, in calling the thirty-second annual meeting of that society in this city, June 26 and 27. The general subject of "How shall the practice of medicine be controlled?" will be discussed.

CORNER STONE OF ST. MARY'S CHURCH

Formal Ceremonies Will Take Place Next Thursday Morning, and Will Be a Notable Event.

The formal laying of the corner stone of St. Mary's new church will take place next Thursday morning, May 30 and will be a notable event in the history of the church. The corner stone will be laid by Archbishops A. B. P. Katzer of Milwaukee and the principal address will be given by Rev. Father R. J. Roche, former pastor of St. Mary's church.

The services will be participated in by the local Catholic societies and several of the visiting priests, Rev. Father W. A. Goebel having made extensive preparations to make the day one of broad and significant interest.

Rev. Father Ward will celebrate high mass at 8:30 o'clock in the morning and at its conclusion the sisters' hall land march to the church. There will be a cavalcade to the opposite end of the church singing psalms. There on the forward buttress of the large tower the corner stone will be put into position on the water table where the brick work commences. There will be a cavity in the stone in which will be placed various church records, including the church directory, a list of the congregation, a record of the subscribers to the church building fund, the names of the pastor and trustees of the church. Other items of interest concerning important events of the day, the names of the president of the United States, the governor of Wisconsin and the mayor of Janesville, a number of coins now in circulation and copies of the Daily Gazette, the Daily Recorder and the Catholic Star, will also be placed in the corner stone. The archbishop, towel in hand, will offer prayer, march in the sign of the cross and cover the stone and cement it, after which he will give a brief address. This will be followed by Father Roche's address and other ceremonies.

Bishop Leonard's cry for more gospel and less "Religious Rubbish" will be echoed by the thinking Christian church everywhere.

Spring Humors

It doesn't make any difference whether you believe in the modern theory and speak of the cause of diseases as referable to germs, microbes or bacilli, or whether you use the older and better understood terms of "humors" and "blood diseases"—Hood's Sarsaparilla cures them all JUST THE SAME. It cures those eruptions, boils and pimples which are so likely to appear in the Spring; cures scrofula diseases in their most tenacious forms; cures salt rheum or eczema and relieves the itching and burning; adapts itself equally well to, and also cures, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles due to generally weak condition and thin, anemic blood; cures nervous troubles, which, in nine cases out of ten, exist because the impure blood cannot supply proper nerve food; cures debility and that tired feeling, which just as surely indicate that the blood is lacking in vitality and the elements of health. This is not merely modern theory but it is solid, up-to-date fact. Hood's Sarsaparilla has had such remarkable success along these lines that it is not too much to say it is the best Spring Medicine, blood purifier, stomach and nerve tonic that money can buy.

FINE LIQUORS For Medicinal Use

Tailor-Made Suits

The sale of suits this year is unprecedented. When one stops to think that almost every woman wants one it takes a great many to supply the demand. Manufacturers have made great strides in the turning out of suits. We do not try very hard to sell suits at less than $10, but at $10 we show good ones, on up the scale they go 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, &c. up to $35. Black and colors in great variety. Large, medium, and small sizes. Extra nice styles for extra small women and misses. During this month and next we will make low figures on suits to reduce stock.

Alterations Free.

We have an expert tailor who oversees all alterations.

McCall Bazar Patterns

are fast taking precedence over all other patterns. Hundreds of people in Janesville and southern Wisconsin who formerly used other makes, are now using McCall Patterns. We daily get orders from all over the state and adjoining states for McCall PATTERNS. There is a reason for this growing popularity. All 10c and 15c, none higher.

McCall Bazar Dressmaker

Containing over 600 patterns, should be in every home. Only 15c.

Wash Summer Goods

One season seems to vie with the other in creating lovely novelties. As time wears on, manufacturers get more export, but one might well think that they had reached the zenith of perfection, judging from the charming effects that grace the shelves and counters. This store never had as many or more beautiful conceits in cotton dress stuffs than it shows now. The Dimities, the Lawns, the Tissues, the Alexandria silk (fine mercerized cotton fabric,) the silk warp muslins in plain, figured, and satin stripe, the silk stripe cotton grenadines, remind one of a lovely bouquet as they are mingled together on the counter.

It is an Embarrassing Predicament for a man to have company and nothing in the house to treat his friends with, but if you keep a case of STAR EXPORT on hand, you can treat your friends like a king at a small cost. SOUTH SIDE BREWERY. Phone 141.

Women's Beauty Dependent on Exercise.

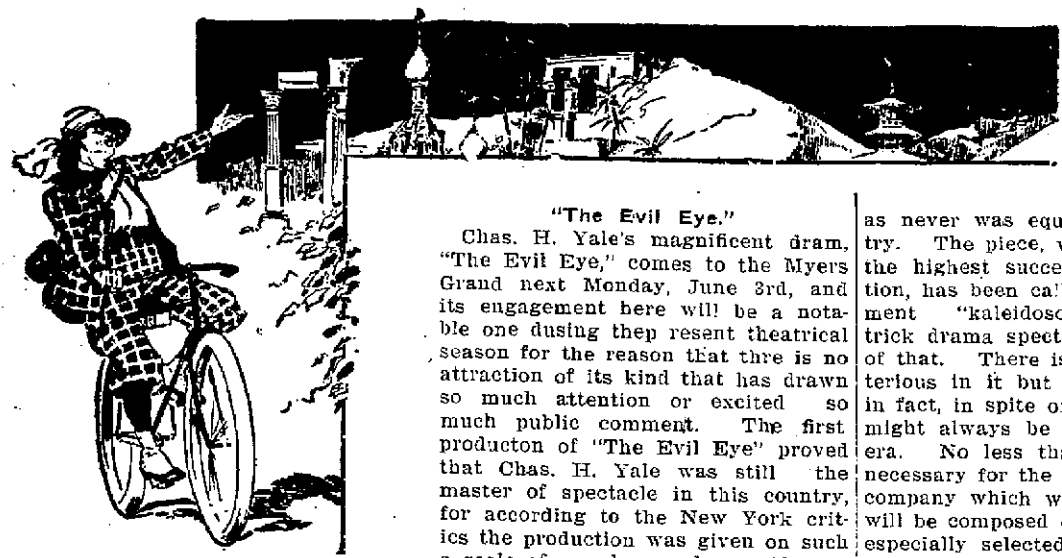

That women should exercise regularly is pointed out as follows by J. Farmlly Paret in "The Woman's Book of Sports," published by the Appleton's. Mr. Paret says on this subject:

"There is another important reason why systematic physical exercise of one kind or another should appeal to every woman under forty, and many who have long passed the meridian of life. Feminine beauty in both face and figure is largely dependent upon it, and if thin women and fat women, ugly women and plain-looking women could only be made to realize this, many figures and faces would be much improved."

The Wild West Great crowds attended the afternoon and evening performances yesterday of Pawnee Bill's Grand Wild West Exhibition. The show is good throughout and gives a picture of life on the plains such as can be obtained in no other show or way. Its many features are greatly applauded, and the show is well worth a visit. SOME THEATRICAL NEWS AND GOSSIP

"The Evil Eye."

Chas. H. Yale's magnificent drama, "The Evil Eye," comes to the Myers Grand next Monday, June 3rd, and its engagement here will be a notable one during the present theatrical season for the reason that there is no attraction of its kind that has drawn so much attention or excited so much public comment. The first production of "The Evil Eye" proved that Chas. H. Yale was still the master of spectacle in this country, for according to the New York critics the production was given on such a scale of grandeur and magnificence as never was equalled in this country. The piece, which has met with the highest success since its inception, has been called by the management "kaleidoscopic mechanical trick drama spectacle," and it is all of that. There is much of the mysterious in it but it is all funny, and in fact, in spite of its many titles, it might always be called a comic opera. No less than fifty people are necessary for the production, and the company which will present it here will be composed of artists who were especially selected by Mr. Yale for their respective parts.

Rusco & Holland's colored minstrels thoroughly pleased a large audience at the Myers Grand last evening and gave a very satisfactory performance, especially when the low prices charged for the attraction were considered. The singing was good, the chorus being strong and harmonious. The best vocal numbers were the solo "Darkey's Home Sweet Home" by W. A. Dixon, the selections by the Diamond quartet and the camp meeting songs. Billy Kersands and Gordon Collins seemed to please with their facial contortions and Bailey & Spiller, the musical artists were favorites. The stage settings were especially handsome and the orchestra was excellent.

After the performance the orchestra and several of the vocalists made merry for the entertainment of the Elks at their social session at Castle hall.

WHAT STATES ARE DOING.

Splendid Exhibits and Buildings at the Pan-American.

The States of the Union generally show a deep interest in the Pan-American Exposition. Liberal appropriations have been made for exhibits. Several of the States have erected handsome buildings in the Court of State and Foreign Buildings.

New York's appropriation is $300,000. A magnificent permanent building has been erected, and an exhibit highly creditable to the Empire State is installed.

Illinois appropriated $75,000 for a building and exhibit.

Michigan's appropriation for a building and exhibit is $40,000.

Ohio's appropriation is $30,000. The State has erected a handsome building. Missouri appropriated $50,000 for a building and exhibit.

Washington has appropriated $25,000 and has a building constructed of native timbers used as State Headquarters.

Wisconsin appropriated $25,000 for a building and exhibit.

The New England States joined together for the erection of a building and display of their resources and industries. Massachusetts appropriated $15,000, Rhode Island $30,000, and Connecticut, Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire have expended sums sufficient for suitable exhibits.

Georgia appropriated a sum sufficient to pay the expenses of a fine exhibit. Idaho appropriated $15,000 for an exhibit.

Pennsylvania's appropriation for representation is $35,000.

Minnesota appropriated $20,000 for an exhibit.

New Jersey's appropriation for representation is $25,000.

North Dakota expends its appropriation of $10,000 for an exhibit.

Oregon expends $25,000 for an exhibit.

Maryland appropriated $25,000 and appointed a commission to prepare an exhibit.

Delaware made an appropriation for an exhibit.

Washington, Montana, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas and other States are suitably represented.

In addition to the exhibits made under the auspices of the different State governments, there are numerous displays of the industrial and natural resources of the States by individual exhibitors.

A Lady's Lunch

Has been rudely defined by some cynic as "slops and sweets." And after all there's more truth than poetry in the definition. Ice cream and cake may satisfy the palate, but they are far from satisfying to the stomach, which requires that food be nutritious first and nice afterward. By careless eating women pave the way for stomach "trouble," and its kindred miseries.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is confidently commended as a cure for diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. By curing diseases which prevent the assimilation of food it enables the body to be built up and strengthened in the only way known to nature—by food digested and assimilated.

"For twelve long months I suffered untold misery," writes Mrs. Mollie Colgate, of Randolph, Charlotte Co., Va. "No tongue could express the pain that I endured before I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicine. I was not able to do anything at all. Could not eat anything except bread and tea—or if I did the top of my head hurt so it seemed it would kill me; with all that I could do it would burn like fire. But now, since using your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Favorite Prescription,' I can eat a little of almost anything I want, and can do a good day's work as well as anybody else. Am better than I have been for years."

RICHARD WATSON GILDER'S INSCRIPTIONS.

The Pen of the Gifted Editor Gives a Finishing Touch to the Exposition. He Proclaims a Prophecy and Pronounces a Benediction.

When the people of the two Americas visit the Exposition city just erected "by the great waters of the North," many will recognize the style of Richard Watson Gilder in the classic and poetic inscriptions which adorn its Propylaea, Stadium, bridges, palaces and temples. The Exposition was peculiarly fortunate in persuading the scholarly editor of The Century to put the finishing touch on the artistic masterpiece. Those who read the legends will feel that their author is a man who "has upheld the ideals of Liberty and Justice" and who throughout a laborious life now in its prime has been "faithful to the things that are eternal," one who "has never slurred the dust and sweat of the contest and on whose brow" already "falls the cool shade of the olive" and rests the wreath of the victor's laurel.

INSCRIPTIONS FOR THE PROPYLEA.

PANEL I.
Here, by the great waters of the north, are brought together the peoples of the two Americas, in exposition of their resources, industries, products, inventions, arts and ideas.

PANEL II.
That the century now begun may unite in the bonds of peace, knowledge, good will, friendship and noble emulation all the dwellers on the continents and islands of the new world.

INSCRIPTIONS FOR THE STADIUM.
PANEL I.
Not ignoble are the days of peace, not without courage and laureled victories.

PANEL II.
He who falls bravely has not truly failed, but is himself also a conqueror.

PANEL III.
Who slums the dust and sweat of the contest, on his brow falls not the cool shade of the olive.

INSCRIPTIONS FOR THE GREAT PYLONS OF THE BRIDGE.
On the pylons are statues of Courage, Liberty, Tolerance, Truth, Benevolence, Patriotism, Hospitality and Justice.

PANEL I.
The spirit of adventure is the maker of commonwealths.

PANEL II.
Freedom is but the first lesson in self government.

PANEL III.
Religious tolerance a safeguard of civil liberty.

PANEL IV.
A free state exists only in the virtue of the citizen.

PANEL V.
Who gives wisely builds manhood and the state—who gives himself gives best.

PANEL VI.
To love one's country above all others is not to despise all others.

PANEL VII.
The brotherhood of man—the federation of nations—the peace of the world.

PANEL VIII.
Between nation and nation as between man and man lives the one law of right.

DEDICATORY INSCRIPTIONS UPON PRINCIPAL BUILDINGS.

PANEL I.
To the ancient races of America, for whom the new world was the old, that their love of freedom and of nature, their hardy courage, their monuments, arts, legends and strange songs, may not perish from the earth.

PANEL II.
To the explorers and pioneers who blazed the westward path of civilization, to the soldiers and sailors who fought for freedom and for peace and to the civic heroes who save a priceless heritage.

PANEL III.
To the great inventors and farseeing projectors, to the engineers, manufacturers, agriculturists and merchants who have developed the resources of the new world and multiplied the homes of freemen.

PANEL IV.
To those who in the deadly mine, on stormy seas, in the fierce breath of the furnace and in all perilous places working ceaselessly bring to their fellow men comfort, sustenance and the grace of life.

PANEL V.
To the scholars and laborious investigators who in the old world and the new guard the lamp of knowledge and century by century increase the safety of life, enlighten the mind and enlarge the spirit of man.

PANEL VI.
To those painters, sculptors and architects, tellers of tales, poets and creators of music, to those actors and musicians who in the new world have cherished and increased the love of beauty.

PANEL VII.
To the prophets and heroes, to the mighty poets and divine artists and to all the light bearers of the ancient world who inspired our forefathers and shall lead and enlighten our children's children.

PANEL VIII.
To the statesmen, philosophers, teachers and preachers and to all those who in the new world have upheld the ideals of liberty and justice and have been faithful to the things that are eternal.

IN WILD MONTANA.

A Resident of That State Relates an Adventure.

"I suppose things are still pretty wild out your way?" he queried of the man who had admitted that he was from Montana.

"Well, yes, you might call them wild," was the reply.

"And every day brings its thrilling adventure?"

"One has an adventure now and then, of course, as might be expected."

"Anything thrilling happened to you of late?" persisted the questioner.

"Why, I don't know that you'd call it thrilling exactly. I sat in my library a few evenings ago reading Shakespeare, while my wife was playing on the piano in the parlor and my little daughter was in the conservatory gathering hothouse roses. All at once I heard a crash—"

"Injuns attacking the house, by George!" interrupted the other.

"I heard a crash from the grand salon, and, carefully laying aside my book and walking in there with languid step, I found—"

"A grizzly bear, of course!"

"I found that one of my three old masters of Rubens had fallen down and knocked the nose off a piece of statuary which cost me $3,000 in Florence."

"And there were no Injuns?"

"No."

"And no grizzly?"

"No."

"Not even a rattlesnake?"

"No. It was simply the fall of a picture and a broken nose. I called in the butler, the footman and a housemaid, and the debris was soon cleared away."

"And you—you—stammered the man who had been waiting to thrill."

"Nothing more, except that a carload of tapestries and foreign bric-a-brac arrived an hour later, and a few friends came in to sample some French wine at $7 per bottle. Yes, things are pretty wild out our way, but we manage to pull along somehow."

A STRENGTHENER

Vinol Promptly Overcomes Weakness.

DEBILITY OFTEN PRECEDES COMPLETE COLLAPSE.

We Want Every One to Know How to Get Strong.

OUR VINOL IS A STRENGTH CREATOR.

The saddest sight on earth is a broken-down man or woman.

We see such people every day right here in our city.

It is pitiful to see a man that should be in his prime dragging himself through life dejected, discouraged and broken down, due to some premature weakness. It does not make any difference whether this weakness is the result of dissipation, indiscreet living or disease; it can be overcome.

We have known of many very serious cases of debility quickly overcome by Vinol.

Vinol is a scientific re-builder and strength creator. It contains the active curative principles of Cod-Liver Oil in a highly concentrated form. The benefit that can be derived from the use of these properties is so well known that there is no need for us to enter into that subject.

We could quote many instances where Vinol has done good; as an example, here is one coming from Jane S. Fenfen, a prominent member of the W. C. T. U., and a resident of Suncook, N. H. She writes:

"I was run down, was in bed from May to March. Was so nervous and sickly that every one thought I was in a most precarious condition. My weight was reduced to 120 pounds. I was advised to take Vinol, which I did, and am now very much better, and am able to be about again. As a re-builder and a strength giver nothing can equal it. Vinol is a God-blessing to anybody."

Because Vinol is delicious, and because it does contain these much-sought-after medicinal properties we endorse it, and we unhesitatingly proclaim that it is better than any preparation of cod-liver oil or tonic re-builder we have ever had in our store.

"BY THEIR FRUIT."

"Come over here Johnnie and get some hickory nuts." In response to the invitation, two boys were busily engaged one day last fall in filling their pockets from a crop of nice looking nuts that covered the ground under the hickory tree.

Presently they stopped for a feast but were disgusted to find that every nut cracked was so bitter that it could not be swallowed.

"Well, that beats me," Johnnie said. "What do you s'pose is the matter with that tree, Tom?"

The boys looked the tree over carefully, and decided that it looked all right and concluded that the nuts must have been spoiled by the drought.

While they were talking about it, the old man that owned the wood lot came along and shouted to the boys as he drove by.

"Help yourselves boys, that old bitter nut tree always bears a good crop. take all you want," and then they heard him chuckle to himself as he disappeared around a bend down the road.

"Well!" Tom said, "That's a good one on us, the old man ought to label his trees."

Johnnie thought that would be a good scheme, but he said, "That ain't half so bad as our old apple tree down in the orchard. It puts on more style than any tree we've got, comes out on dress parade in the spring, loads itself with buds, and turns out the scrappiest lot of apples you ever looked at. No more fit to eat than these bitter nuts."

The boys had made a discovery as old as time itself, and described by the Master two thousand years ago in the terse statement, "By their fruits ye shall know them."

If the disappointment of life were confined to the realm of nature, they would not be very difficult to overcome. The boy soon learns to detect the bitter nut, tree, and the fruitage of the apple tree responds to the will and direction of the grafter. But there are other realms that have to do with human destiny, where deception enters into the problem, effecting results and changing conditions.

There are three distinctive fields of work, where men and women toil, and where the fruitage is an index, that determines character with unerring certainty. These fields are designated, as the physical, the mental, and the moral. Each important and worthy of the faithful occupation.

In some departments the mental and physical are so closely allied, that the measure of success depends upon hearty co-operation.

The farmer may possess great physical endurance and toil with untiring energy from daylight till dark, with indifferent results, because back of the muscle and endurance, was no planning or thought.

His neighbor across the way may spend the summer in dressing gown and slippers, busy with text book and theories and raise nothing but a good crop of weeds.

The fruitage in either case indicates that both were impractical, because they had overlooked the important fact that it requires both brain and muscle to make a successful farmer.

The sober industrious man who works in the ditch day after day, and year after year, happy, because contented with his lot, invests physical strength, with but little thought of anxiety, until he develops a frame like iron, and enjoys the reputation of honesty and efficiency, the natural fruitage of the investment.

The man in the shop calls to his aid the machinery that the work demands, and by the exercise of his mental faculties, masters the mechanism. By close application he becomes a skillful operator, investing both brain and hand in his work. The finished product is the fruitage, and bears the impress of the man who produced it.

If his mind is inventive he studies the machine, not only for its mechanism, but for its improvement, and some fine morning he startles the world with a discovery, that revolutionizes an industry, and transfers him to another rank of toilers. The fruitage of mental equipment.

Across the way in the office, where the clerical force of the plant are employed, busy brains and busy hands analyze and record the daily transactions with clock like precision and regularity. Much of the force may have reached the limit of capacity, but among them is a mind of broader range whose thought grasps the business in all its details. This kind of ability is quickly recognized, and with an eagerness to seize every opportunity the possessor of this kind of a mind rapidly comes to the front, as the director of great industrial and financial enterprises. The fruitage of both mental and physical equipment.

What is true of the ditch, the shop, the farm, and the office, is true of the professions and all other departments of life where men and women toil, with brain or hand. "By the fruit," is determined the character of mental and physical development. Endurance is the test of physical strength, and this quality, coupled with capacity, the test of the combination of physical and mental endowment.

It may be possible to be a mental giant, and a physical wreck, but these conditions do not belong to the common order of things. It requires as much physical endurance to prepare and present an effective plea before a jury, as to follow a plow. It may not develop as much leg muscle, but it saps resources that run dry, long before the plowman turns the last furrow.

The moral, or spiritual kingdom, the most important of all, is not dependent upon either one of the others, and the fruitage of this kingdom is perpetual.

It is possible to have a pure, white soul in a weak and decaying tenement, with a mind for a companion that has never startled humanity with its brilliancy. And it is just as possible to have a shriveled up, trampled, and neglected spirit, in a well developed body, whose energies are directed by a mind cultured and polished to the highest degree.

The fruitage of this universal kingdom is not dependent upon the seasons, the climate, location or conditions. The harvest is perennial, and every life is responsible for the character of the fruit.

The sowing of tares insures a harvest of weeds, and the planting of good seed is just as certain to produce good results.

This world will be better when the heart of humanity beats with holier ambition, and when the great fact is recognized and more fully appreciated, that "the fruit of the spirit is love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance," and that "against such there is no law."

EX-GOVERNOR TANNER.

In the death of ex-Governor Tanner Illinois has lost one of her brightest public men. Governor Tanner was a self made man. Starting from the farm, a poor boy without education, he made for himself a name, and fame in the history of the state.

He possessed a warm and generous heart, never forgot a friend, believed that his enemies were able to take care of themselves, and pursuing the even tenor of his way, came to the front, as a political leader and statesman.

He was traduced and maligned by men who professed to be his friends, and was the target for the half-breed republican press of Chicago, who never lost an opportunity to slander his name, and ruin his character. The Tribune and Herald will now have a chance to turn their mud batteries into other channels.

When the history of the state is written, the name of John R. Tanner will stand out conspicuously, and his administration will be recognized as among the best that the state ever enjoyed. His enemies have lost a clever fighter and will not mourn, and his friends, by far more numerous, experience a feeling of personal loss, and his memory will not soon be forgotten.

The Union Castle Steamship Company of London, which controls the South African traffic, is a good deal stirred up by J. Pierpont Morgan, and defies him as a competitor with his Leyland fleet, in their territory. The London company is likely to discover that they have no fence around the South African waterways. Mr. Morgan is a very good man for them to tackle. It will furnish occupation for the Englishmen and the class of amusement for Mr. Morgan that a' enterprising Americans enjoy.

Mr. Zeig'er, of New York, the man who is backing the new polar expedition, is afraid some one will steal his laurels by following the trail of his party and taking possession of the north pole after he discovers it, so he has issued orders to shoot any man on the spot who attempts it. Mr. Zeig'er proposes to use the pole as a flag staff next Fourth of July and have a celebration of his own. The average American don't care if he does.

Mr. Dowle seems to have been hit amidstships, and his craft is badly disabled. It is about time his feet was dry docked and dismantled. Many people live so close to the border line of insanity these days, that Dowleism, or some other fanaticism attracts them beyond resistance. Inherited insanity is not a crime, but cultivated lunacy should not be tolerated.

Alabama is bothering itself about a plan to disfranchise the blacks. The North Carolina plan is unconstitutional. The Maryland plan prohibits more whites than blacks, and the Mississippi scheme is inoperative. Which will Alabama choose?

Chicago accepts the task of preparing for the Olympian games with its customary enthusiasm, and the result cannot be anything but beneficial to true sportsmanship in the west.

The saving of human souls from drink and shame, is an occupation which ought to be free from political affiliations of every kind.

Those who acquiesce in the actions of a maniac, place themselves in a perilous position as regards public approval.

LABOR TROUBLES.

Circus Incites Strike.
Pittston, Pa., May 25.—Upon refusal of the Seneca Coal company to give free tickets to a circus yesterday, the breaker and driver boys went on strike. The boys at the other collieries left the breakers when the parade started. This action caused all the other mines in this section to shut down and threw 10,000 men out.

Boiler-Makers on Strike.
Easton, Pa., May 25.—The boiler-makers employed in the Lehigh Valley Railroad company's shops here, about 190 in number, struck today because they had been ordered to repair a locomotive wrecked on one of the upper divisions of the road, on which there is a lockout.

Strike of Linemen.
Indianapolis, Ind., May 25.—The linemen employed by the street railway company, the Light and Power company, and the Central Union Telephone company refused to go to work yesterday. They demanded a nine-hour day and $2.50 a day.

Elks Have Social Session.
The Elks enjoyed a social session and a smoker at Castle Hall last evening. A number of visiting brothers were present. At the close of the minstrel show about twenty of the colored gentlemen attended the session and gave a very enjoyable musical program. Mr. Kanouse favored the audience with several solos which were well received. The hypnotic work of Prof. Rosenberg was extremely interesting, many good subjects being found among the minstrel men.

An elegant lunch was served by Caterer Shurtleff and added very much to the pleasures of the evening.

HOW THE "INSIDERS" WORK IT; THE ORGANIZING OF SYNDICATES

Rich Beaumonters Operate on a Large Scale—Little Money Lost Up to Date, But the Losing Time is Bound To Come, Sooner or Later.

Beaumont, Tex., May 25—Those who saw the bubbling lake of oil from the Lucas gusher say it was the most awe-inspiring sight they ever witnessed. For a week after the gusher "came in" it spouted a steady six-inch stream of oil at a rate of about 70,000 barrels every twenty-four hours. Captain Lucas offered $50.00, then $10,000, then $20,000 to the man who would stop the flow, and finally, by almost superhuman efforts, a valve was forced into the pipe and the great geyser was tamed. In the meantime, a lake of oil, many acres in extent and several feet deep, had formed in a low area near the well. Lucas' greatest worry, greater even than that occasioned by the loss of hundreds of thousands of barrels of oil, was that the lake would catch fire and that the flames would spread to the fountain that was gushing from the well.

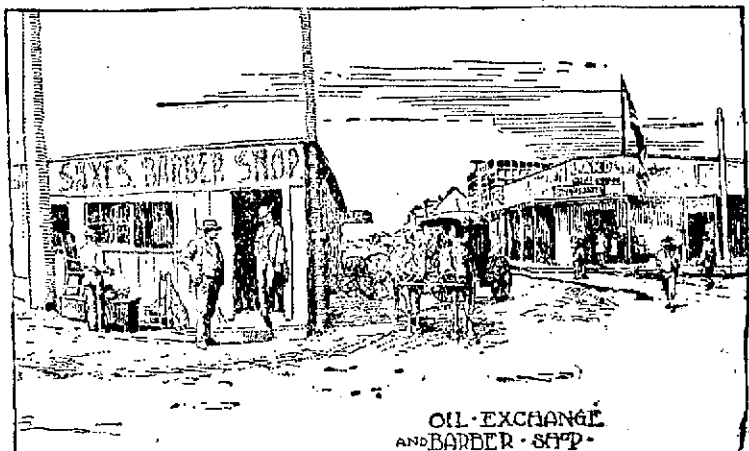

The third day after the well came in gold. The California oil boom in the captain's hands so far as the lake catching fire was concerned, were realized. "No one will ever know the mental torture I endured during the days and nights the lake was burning." The news of the Lucas gusher said Captain Lucas a few days ago, brought him to Beaumont, and his "I have had enough experience to know the awful results if the fire broke out here, joined him here. Now communicated to the well. I do not think that it would have been a human possibility to put it out. It might and probably would burn on indefinitely with results to the surrounding country too awful to contemplate. For three days and nights I never closed my eyes and I prayed to God that the oil in the lake would burn itself out with no further damage. "Hundreds of tons of sand was piled up between the burning lake and the flowing well and at the end of about a week the lake had burned itself out and the present danger was over. But there is always danger that the oil from one of the wells will catch fire while it is flowing and every precaution is taken to prevent it. A shotgun quarantine is in effect during the hours of darkness and no one is allowed to approach close enough to the wells to set the combustible liquid afire, either maliciously or carelessly. A humorous incident in connection with the fire was related by Captain Lucas. The smoke and black blew over the town of Beaumont and ruined the paint on some newly decorated houses. The third day of the they continue in the oil business or sell out, they will be in a position to buy steam yachts and race horses or indulge in any of the other luxuries affected by rich Americans.

OIL EXCHANGE AND BARBER SHOP

These rich Beaumontites operated on a large scale, leasing or buying thousands of acres which their business judgment told them would at once increase in value many fold. The native land owner found it hard to resist an offer of $100 an acre for land which he would have sold a week before for $10, especially when the money in crisp new bills and bright, clinking gold was piled in front of him on the rough pine board table of his humble home. He didn't know that the next day or the next week $5 for every $1 paid to him would be offered for his land. But in thousands of instances this was the case.

The usual plan of operations was for a syndicate made up of these wealthy men to sell a small part of the land bought at say $100 an acre, for enough to cover the entire buying price. This absolutely secured their investment and then all they had to do was wait for the thousands of outside investors who were sure to come, and who, in many cases, were only too glad to pay ten and twenty times what the first purchaser had paid. Then these second buyers would turn the land over to the next crowd at a good advance, and so it went until in some cases as high as $70,000 an acre was paid for land. The first purchaser usually kept a large enough tract, nearest the proven field to form a basis for a stock company. These companies varied in capitalization from $5000 to $5,000,000, according to the business sagacity of the purchaser and location of land. Enough treasury stock was put on the market at from 10c to 50c on the dollar to create a fund for sinking a well. As soon as this well or one near it "came in" this stock would jump to par, or thereabouts, and those who were lucky or shrewd enough to have "gotten in on the ground floor" were independently rich.

These men are known here as the "insiders." On the outside are the thousands of real estate agents and small investors, who were attracted to the town. In a few instances some of these "outsiders," who happened to get some of the best property, made fortunes which, under ordinary conditions, would seem big. Most of them have had to be content with a few thousands.

The man who has lost money in this boom, up to date, is an anomaly. The time for losing hasn't come yet. But of course it is bound to come, sooner or later. Then the little fellows, who paid $500 an acre for land which they thought might have oil, but which proves to be dry, will try to sell, only to find that their property is worth even less than before the boom—about $15 an acre. Then also will the investor in the stocks of some of these wildcat companies, which are now being advertised in box car type as owning "200 acres within four miles of the Lucas gusher," wake up to discover that his stock certificates are not worth the match to set them afire. This is the dark side of the picture of which only the bright colors are now discernable. This is the feature of every boom, oil or otherwise, which has for its stage setting broken hearts, mortgaged homes, the sweeping away of the savings of a lifetime of hard work. It is the price thousands of men will pay through the lust of quick gotten wealth.

A Strong Woman

Iowa City, Iowa, Aug. 15, 1900.
My wife was sick for three years. We tried everything without relief and spent much money. My wife tried Wine of Cardui and four bottles cured her. She took two more bottles, knowing she would have to work hard during the hay harvest. She attended to all her household duties and loaded and unloaded all the hay. This medicine gave her strength. Formerly she was weak and tired and could hardly get about, but since she has been taking Wine of Cardui she feels better and stronger than when 20 years of age. J. O. A. EISENHAFFER.

Mrs. Eisenhafer had tried everything during her three years sickness and had spent considerable money. She was weak and could hardly get about for three years before she took

WINE OF CARDUI

Now, after taking the Wine of Cardui, she can work with her husband in the hay field. That is hard work, but it is not as injurious to a woman's health as labor in stores, factories and offices where thousands of girls are closely confined year after year. With the aid of Wine of Cardui a woman can do any reasonable work and enjoy good health. The health that Wine of Cardui brings makes a woman vigorous in body and mind. Freed from those terrible devastating pains a woman grows well and strong naturally. Wine of Cardui regulates the disordered menstruation and cures leucorrhoea, falling of the womb and periodical pains in the head and back caused by standing or sitting a long time in the same position. Bedford's Black-Draught puts the bowels, stomach, liver, kidneys and blood in proper shape. Greatly increased strength and endurance is the natural result. Most cases are cured quickly. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui and 25 cent packages of Bedford's Black-Draught.

A Very Remarkable Remedy.
 "It is with a good deal of pleasure and satisfaction that I recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says druggist A. W. Sawtelle, of Hartford, Conn. "A lady' customer, seeing the remedy exposed for sale on my show case, said to me: 'I really believe that medicine saved my life the past summer at the shore,' and she became so enthusiastic over its merits that I at once made up my mind to recommend it in the future. Recently a gentleman came into my store so overcome with colic pains that he sank at once to the floor. I gave him a dose of this remedy which helped him. I repeated the dose and in fifteen minutes he left my store smilingly informing me that he felt as well as ever." Sold by Peoples' Drug Store and King's Pharmacy.

AN ABSOLUTE FACT THAT GREGG'S COFFEES ARE THE BEST

Pan-American Exposition Company,
D. S. Morgan Bldg.,
Buffalo, N. Y.

C. D. Gregg Tea & Coffee Co.,
Chicago and St. Louis.

Gentlemen:—

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 10, 1901.

I enclose you contract for the supply of coffee for the Bailey Cartiering Company, at the Pan-American Exposition, to be held in Buffalo during the coming summer. In the selection of your coffee, in competition with samples submitted by a number of the largest Importers and Roasters in the country, I have been governed entirely by the quality of the same. My experience with the coffee supplied to me during the past year or so by your house has been so uniformly satisfactory that I feel that I could do no better than to complete this arrangement with you. The amount of coffee which this involves will probably amount to as much or more than has ever been supplied to one consumer in the same length of time, and I congratulate you upon your enterprise in having secured this contract.

Very truly,
PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION COMPANY.

In Janesville and vicinity we are exclusive agents for the Pan-American Blend. We are now prepared to fill orders. 'Phone us.

FOR A BABY OF THIS SIZE

Or a baby of any size, when suffering from simple fevers, coated tongue, constipation, or any trouble arising from the stomach, the purest, safest and best remedy is LAXAKOLA, the great tonic-laxative.

Mothers, watch your children carefully. Their health, perhaps their lives, depend on keeping their bowels regular. Many parents make a fatal mistake by giving their little children the old-fashioned, violent purgatives which are racking and griping, and are therefore not only unpleasant, but dangerous. Make no mistake, give them

LAXAKOLA

It does not gripe nor irritate. It is a pure, gentle, speedy and painless liquid laxative. It is not only a sure laxative, but it contains valuable tonic properties which act upon the bowels, tone up the entire system and purify the blood.

A few drops can be given with safety to very young babies; and it will often relieve colic by expelling the wind and gas that cause it. It will aid digestion, relieve restlessness, assist nature and induce sleep.

For constipation, simple fevers, coated tongue, or any infantile troubles arising from a disordered condition of the stomach it is invaluable. Great relief is experienced when administered to young children suffering from diarrhea, accompanied with white or green evacuations, as LAXAKOLA neutralizes the acidity of the bowels and carries out the causes of the fermentation.

RECEPTION FOR THE GRADUATING CLASS

REUNION PLANNED BY THE HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI.

It is Scheduled to Be Held On Friday Evening, June 7—Former Superintendents Have Been Invited—Banquet Will Be Served in the High School Gymnasium.

Arrangements for the reception to be given the Alumni association of the Janesville High school in honor of the graduating class on Friday evening, June 7, are almost completed and it gives promise of being the best reunion of graduates ever held. Former superintendents of the school have been written to and it is hoped that W. D. Parker and R. W. Burton will be present. This will add unusual pleasure to the occasion especially as the effort this year is to make the Alumni reception a reunion of classes. An additional reason for having the event a memorable one is that it will mark the close of Superintendent Mayne's official connection with the school. E. C. Buell, the future superintendent, will also be present and will respond to a toast as will Supt. Mayne. The former superintendents who are present will also have a place on the program and those who cannot be present have been asked to write a few words of greetings.

The banquet will be served in the High school gymnasium, probably at 6:30 o'clock. It will be prepared by the ladies of the Congregational church and will be served, according to custom, by members of the Junior class. The decorations will be mostly in blue and white, the alumni colors, although the table at which the graduating class will be seated will be decorated in the class colors, purple and old gold.

The program which will follow the banquet immediately, has been arranged on rather a unique plan and several novelties will be introduced. One of the features, which will be entirely new will be the singing of a number of jolly college songs by a chorus of young men. Len Matthews, Edward Peterson and Will Dougherty have taken charge of this chorus and the first rehearsal will be held at the High school building next Monday night at 7 o'clock. Other splendid musical numbers have been secured for the program after which a reunion of classes will follow.

It is exceeding important that all members of the association should pay their part of the dues at once to the treasurer, S. C. Burnham. The banquet committee is required to guarantee a certain number of plates and they must have some idea at once of how large an audience there will be. The larger the attendance the better they will be pleased only they wish to be prepared for it. All dues ought to be in the treasurer's hands by the middle of the coming week at the very latest.

Warning

It has come to our knowledge that some peddlers are selling a preparation for cleaning silver and others are selling clocks and representing themselves as our agents, or claiming they had dealings with us. We have no agent or employees to sell anything outside of our store and we guarantee the quality and price of whatever we sell. Our silver polish has stood the test of years and we know it is the best and safest made. We guarantee it to be absolutely non-injurious to the articles on which it is used, or the health of the user.

Men's Meeting Tomorrow.

The men's meeting tomorrow will be of interest to all men. Topic: "Wanted, a man." Several business men will take different phases of the case. Good music and a cordial invitation is extended to all men. Don't fail to enjoy the hour from 3 to 4 at the Y. M. C. A.

Miss Peake charmed all who heard her upon her previous appearance in our city. She will give two numbers at the concert Tuesday evening.

REV. W. H. BOLTON WRITES.

Well Known Methodist Divine Praises Work of Dr. Richards.

Rev. W. H. Bolton, a man of national reputation on the lecture platform and chaplain of a volunteer regiment to Cuba and Porto Rico during the late war and now presiding elder of the Methodist churches of the Madison district, with headquarters in the Capital City, has sent a most interesting letter to the local Y. M. C. A. In this letter Rev. Bolton made special mention of Dr. Richards the well known dentist who recently moved to Janesville from Brodhead and who now has a suite of offices in the Hayes block on the third floor. Dr. Richards rendered some difficult dental work for Rev. Bolton and if one is to judge from the unsolicited praise that the Methodist divine heaped upon Dr. Richards for valuable services rendered it is quite evident that he thinks well of the Janesville man's work as a dentist. Rev. Bolton mentioned at length of the painless character of the work and that he had had dental work done by the best Chicago and Boston dentists but that Dr. Richards' work has proved the most satisfactory.

During this month several out of town residents have made special trips here to consult W. F. Haye, the optician with F. O. Cook & Co. Some of those afflicted with eye trouble are residents of Milwaukee. Mr. Haye arrived in the city last evening, and will be in his office Saturday and Monday.

Consultation free.

All young men belonging to the Alumni association of the Janesville High school who have promised or are willing to sing in the male chorus at his annual reception and banquet on Friday evening, June 7, are requested to meet at the high school building next Monday evening at 7 o'clock.

Miss Luel'a McCue, for many years employed at the Hotel Myers, left this morning for Joliet, Ill., where she has obtained a position as stenographer in a large insurance office.

Miss McCue is a graduate from Miss E. L. Williams business college. She was a general favorite at her hotel and will be missed by its patrons.

The assessors are delayed in their work for the fact that the new assessment law is not yet out. They received word from the secretary of state saying that he could not furnish them for about eight days. Property will be assessed at its full value this year and the real estate and improvements on it assessed separately.

This is a decided change from last year.

The banner to be given to the school making the most improvement in the appearance of its school grounds has been purchased and is at the high school building. It is on a standard, is made of dark blue satin with gold trimmings and lettering and bears the words "Greatest Improvement in School Yard."

The two sets of scenery for the high school gymnasium stage have been ordered and are expected to arrive in a few days.

City Clerk Badger sent out plans and specifications to a number of contractors this morning setting forth the amount of work to be done on South Second, South Third, North Bluff, South Franklin, Pleasant, Academy, Marion and Clark streets.

The bids for work on all of the streets except Clark street will be opened on June 8. Clark street runs until June 14. It is expected that this work will be completed before winter sets in.

AN OPEN MEETING FOR WORKINGMEN

It Will Be Held In Assembly Hall Monday Evening to Form a Federal Labor Union.

An open mass meeting of workingmen will be held at the Federated Trades council hall Monday evening to discuss the formation of a Federal Labor Union, to be made up of laboring men, representing all classes of labor, for the purpose of strengthening and advancing the labor movement. This organization will be chiefly an educational organization.

Considerable attention is also given to the encouragement of home patronage. Steps will likely be taken towards the establishment of a lecture course on the subject and a union employment bureau. The meeting will be addressed by R. D. Hogan of Indiana and by several local trades unionists.

A general invitation is extended to all workingmen of the city, whether they are members of a labor organization or not, or whether they care to become members or not. The charter will be open to all and those caring to become members will be admitted free of initiation fee.

VOTE IS NOT TO DISMISS

First Ballot an Apparent Victory for Revision.

DR. BAKER'S MOTION LOST.

Entirely New Declaratory Act Proposed by Dr. Roberts Has Many Supporters—Nineteen Speakers Occupy the Floor, and All Are Calvinists.

Philadelphia, May 25.—Revisionists have won an apparent victory in the Presbyterian general assembly. Rev. Dr. Baker's motion to dismiss the whole subject was defeated by such an overwhelming vote that it was idle to waste the time of the 600 men to know how great the majority was. Dr. Herick Johnson of Chicago said it was two to one. Dr. Charles A. Dickey of Philadelphia, chairman of the revision committee, thought the proportion was three to one others said it was four and some five to one. Everybody said it was a complete victory for Dr. Dickey and his committee, and indicates that some revision will be made in the creed or a declaratory statement adopted. But the end is not yet. Monday will see another step in the movement for revision or a new creed, for the two reports before the house were not disturbed by the vote today. Both agree that there should be a revision of the Westminster confession, and one says there should be a new summary of doctrine additional to the changes which may be made in the standard prepared by the Westminster divines. Dr. Dickey closed the debate today and the voting on the reports will be the first order when the assembly meets in the morning.

New Declaratory Act Proposed.
An entirely new element was introduced in the discussion in the last hour, when Dr. Roberts, the stated clerk of the assembly, rising as a commissioner, proposed a declaratory act, and outlined its nature as a part of his speech. This paper was not voted on, but there are not a few in the assembly who would prefer a statement of this kind to a new creed or even to revision. Nineteen speakers occupied the floor during the six hours the assembly was in session today, and it should be said here that not one of them and not one of those who spoke yesterday advocated the adoption of a new creed. Every man of them is a Calvinist. The body of doctrine held by the Presbyterian church is satisfactory to them all.

CHAUNCEY CLAIM DISMISSED.

Important Decision by Majority of the Chilean Commission.
Washington, May 25.—In a divided opinion the Chilean claims commission recently dismissed the case of Henry Chauncey, an American citizen, against the government of Chile involving over a million Bolivian silver dollars. The majority of the commission—namely, Minister Peoda of Switzerland and Minister Vicuna of Chile—held that the claim originated under the partnership laws of Chile, and that recourse must be had either by diplomatic intervention with the government of Chile or in the courts of that country. The American commissioner, Mr. Gage, filed a long dissenting opinion. It is said that the decision establishes a new and important precedent in international usage.

In Janesville

Every Claim is Backed by Local Testimony.

If the reader wants anything stronger than opinions and experiences of his neighbors, what can it be?

Mr. L. Lawrence, of 418 S. Franklin St., engineer at the Janesville Electric Light Co., says:

"Seven years ago I injured my back by falling through a bridge near Afton, into the Rock river. I was on a traction engine, its weight broke through, and the whole thing went into the stream. Since that time my back has ached by spells, sometimes very severely. If I caught cold it settled in my kidneys and if I brought a strain on my back lifting, the result was a bad backache and sharp twinges of pain in my loins. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills and after I used them I was free from backache. I am in better health than at any time since falling through the bridge."

Draws Revolver on Trustees.
Detroit, Mich., May 25.—Grace Rose, a teacher in the Wilkins school here, drew a revolver on Dr. Thomas Henderson, chairman of the school board committee on teachers, and threatened to shoot him if his report recommending her dismissal was adopted by the board. The board delayed action and saved the doctor's life. This morning Miss Rose was refused permission to continue teaching. She visited the office of Dr. Sherrill, another member of the board, and again drew her revolver, this time re-enforced by a bottle of vitriol. She was disarmed after a brief struggle and locked up.

Minister's Son a Murderer.
Kingston, N. Y., May 25.—Frank Heroy, son of a Methodist clergyman, shot and killed Charles Vanderlyn at Greenfield yesterday. Heroy was drunk and abusing his uncle, James Heroy, an aged cripple. His mother asked Vanderlyn to interfere. Heroy resented Vanderlyn's action, and getting a shotgun took deliberate aim and fired. Then he surrendered himself.

DIE IN THE RAGING WAVES

Steamer Baltimore Founders During Storm in Lake Huron.

TWELVE OF THE CREW LOST.

Two Others Escape, but One Loses His Reason Through His Terrible Experience—Struggle with the Madman—Storm of Wide Extent.

East Tawas, Mich., May 25.—The wooden steamer Baltimore foundered in Lake Huron, near Au Sable, at 8 a. m., and twelve of the crew of fourteen were drowned. Two men were washed about in the lake for several hours, lashed to a piece of wreckage, and finally were picked up by the tug Columbia and brought in here. George McGinnis, a deckhand, one of the rescued, went crazy from his experience. The other survivor, Thomas Murphy of Milwaukee, second engineer, was able to tell the story of the disaster.

Names of the Victims.
The dead follow: August Anderson, deckhand; Michael Breathen, first mate; John Delders, second steward; F. Krueger, fireman; Peter Marcoux, chief engineer; William Parker, fireman; M. H. Place, captain; Mrs. M. H. Place, captain's wife, steward; Edward Owen, wheelman; George W. Scott, watchman; C. W. Sears, wheelman; Herbert Wining, watchman.

Survivor Tells of the Disaster.
It was some time after the Columbia had brought the shipwrecked men into port before Murphy was revived sufficiently to tell his story. He said: "We were bound from Lorain to Sault Ste. Marie, and had in tow a large steam drill and scow. When off Thunder Bay last night Captain Place saw the steamer was making bad weather, for the waves had smashed in the engineer's quarters and the washrooms and the water was running into the hold. Captain Place decided to turn about and run for Tawas for shelter. Everything went all right until we were off Au Sable, when the steamer struck heavily on the bottom. The seas broke over it at the same time and carried away the deckhouse, then the after cabin, and, finally, the smokestack fell. Both rails forward broke in two just aft of the forward deckhouse, and we knew that it was only a few minutes before the steamer would go to pieces. 'It is every man for himself now,' shouted Captain Place. The look of despair on Mrs. Place's face was something I shall never forget. It was awful. We took the Captain's advice, and every man started to save himself as best he could. Some of the boys took to the rigging, but McGinnis and I lashed ourselves to a ringbolt in a piece of the after cabin, and we were washed overboard shortly afterward."

Goed Insane on the Rift.
"The strain was too much for McGinnis, and he went crazy before we had been in the water long. He tried to throw me off the wreckage, but I talked to him and encouraged him to hold on. Twice he got loose and tried to drown us both, but each time I succeeded in quieting him. I told him a boat was coming to take us off, and then I would get him tied fast again. The Columbia finally came along and picked us up, just as I was about to give up hope. I am afraid all of the rest of the crew were drowned, including Mrs. Place. I only wonder how it was that we lived through it all. Our wreckage was big enough to make a raft, but it was small, and the seas swept it constantly."

Fear for Other Vessels.
Chicago, May 25.—Death and disaster, the full extent of which is not known yet, resulted from the gale on the Great Lakes. From Chicago to Ogdensburg, N. Y., the storm held sway and a score of vessels were sunk, wrecked, or suffered serious damage. The reports received from ports on the lakes told only of disasters in their immediate vicinity, and it is feared that other wrecks, with fatalities, occurred at isolated places along the shores. Anxiety is felt for vessels in mid-lake, which could find no shelter from the gale's fury.

Try to Save Ruthven.
Columbus, Ohio, May 25.—At yesterday's meeting of the State Board of Pardons, application was made to reopen the case of Edwin Ruthven, whose date of electrocution is fixed for a week from tonight.

Two Columbus newspaper men claim to have discovered new evidence tending to prove that Charles Jacobs, who Ruthven says was the slayer of Policeman Ship, of Cleveland, is not a myth, and also evidence tending to cast doubt on Ruthven's identity as the murderer.

Judson Talks on Taxation.
Buffalo, N. Y., May 25.—The taxation conference of the National Civic federation resumed its discussions of the question of taxation today, the topic for the day being taxation of mortgages and inheritances and local option in taxation. James R. Garfield of Ohio, presided. Frederick N. Judson of St. Louis, the first speaker, spoke of taxation of mortgages.

George F. Kimball was a Chicago visitor yesterday.

Railways Have a Quarrel.

Belvidere, Ill., May 25.—The Rockford-Belvidere Electric Railway company is having trouble building its line between this city and Rockford. The Chicago and Northwestern railway has refused to permit the electric road to cross its tracks at Cherry Valley, which it must do to reach this city. The promoters of the electric line claim to have a franchise from the village of Cherry Valley granting them the right of way across the railroad tracks and say they will make the crossing by force if necessary.

Dreadful End of a Miser.

Schenectady, N. Y., May 25.—David Reynolds, a farmer living two miles from this city, has been found murdered in his barn. His head was smashed to a pulp with an ax, which was found near by. Reynolds was miserly and wealthy and he has always been believed that he carried large sums in his boots. When the body was found the boots were missing.

Michigan Strawberries Are Injured.
Benton Harbor, Mich., May 25.—Fruit growers report that the continued wet and cold weather is causing great injury to the strawberry. The berries, which are just now in all stages of development, are becoming affected with rust caused by lack of warmth and sunshine. Growers say this has been the coldest May known here in years.

To Discharge All Employees.

Pittsburg, May 25.—Notices were posted today at the plant of the American Steel and Wire company, Neville Island, to the effect that on May 31 every man employed in the plant would be discharged and that on June 1 all the forces would be reorganized. It is understood that many of the present employees will be left out by the reorganization.

WARSHIPS MENACE TANGIER

French Fleet of Cruisers to Enforce Demands

ON GOVERNMENT OF MOROCCO.

Fleet Under Command of Admiral Bailard Faces Moroccan Capital to Force France's Claim—Plan Military Operations in Algeria and Possibly Morocco.

Paris, May 25.—Reported departure of the cruiser Chanzy to join the French fleet now in front of Tangier, Morocco, is the cause of great excitement here today. Admiral Bailard, in command of the several squadrons, has a formidable force of ships that now menace the Sultan's capital. These include the cruisers Du Chayla, Pothuau, D'Assas and two torpedo boats. The cruiser Chanzy will strengthen the fleet materially. M. Revoll, the present French Minister, who was last week appointed Governor of Algiers, has asked permission to remain at his post at Tangier until the Moroccan question is settled. The Minister of Foreign Affairs, while granting M. Revoll's request, added that the Governor would be expected to proceed to his new post within three weeks. This indicates the government expects a speedy settlement of the Moroccan question. To assure the absolute carrying out in the future of the present French projects M. Delcasse has named as the new Minister to Morocco, to succeed M. Revoll, St. Rene Taillandier, under director of political affairs at the Foreign Office, the confidential assistant of M. Delcasse, and a man absolutely in touch with the views and projects of his chief regarding Morocco. Tomorrow President Loubet will receive in private audience Minister of War Andre and General Caze, the new Commander-in-Chief of the Algerian troops. The plans for French military operations in Algeria and possibly in Morocco will be discussed. General Caze has just had a long interview with General Metzinger, commander of the troops at Marseilles, relative to the possibility of embarking a division of troops. Hugh Arnold-Foster, member of Parliament and Under Secretary for the British Admiralty, arrived today at Marseilles, where he had a long conversation with the British Consul, after which he received many English residents. Afterward he embarked on the British dispatch boat Surprise for Malta. It is believed that Arnold-Foster was seeking information in regard to French military and naval activity at Marseilles, and his visit has aroused general comment.

Stories of Bresci Differ.

Rome, May 25.—Stories concerning the death of Bresci differ. It is denied that there was any writing in blood on the walls of his cell. It is now stated that a paper was found in the cell, on which the prisoner had written: "Death to monarchy and all canaille who are its instruments. I prefer death because I love liberty."

PROF. N. R. FUNK'S SUCCESS in MAGNETIC HEALING is REAL.

Cures without the aid of drugs, surgery or electricity.

PROF. N. R. FUNK.

Mrs. Hannah Armfield, of No. 125 Glen St., says: For nearly 2 years I have been troubled with a dull aching pain in my sides, also had stomach trouble and constipation, appetite poor, sleeplessness, nausea and vomiting. I have tried all kinds of medicines and received little or no benefit. I began to improve from the very first treatment from Prof. Funk and after taking nine treatments I feel perfectly well, and it is my pleasant duty to him and to suffering humanity to acknowledge the benefit I received from magnetic treatments.

If you are suffering, investigate this method of curing disease. That the method as practiced by Prof. Funk is a wonderful success can no longer be doubted, as many responsible people of this community have tested its merits and are now enthusiastic in their praise of the good results obtained.

If suffering, you owe it to yourself to try this method of healing.

Real Estate and Building News

Real Estate

The general tone of prosperity which characterizes the opening of the spring trade in Janesville is reflected most noticeably in the number of new homes being built and the amount of residence property which is being improved.

Never before in the history of the city has there been so much individual buying of property for home building, and the fact is important, suggesting confidence in Janesville institutions and a desire of independence on the part of the citizens. It also augurs well for the city and insures public improvements in all directions, for where a man's money is invested there is where his heart is.

In every part of the city and in the outlying districts there are many new homes being constructed, and in a majority of cases they are of a substantial kind, with modern improvements and appurtenances, with the idea of comfort and beauty and permanence.

The ease with which new houses are being rented shows the desire of the people for comfort and proves that the time is past when "any old thing" is good enough for those who haven't homes of their own. It also evinces the steady growth of the city's population.

Both on the east and west sides the building boom is on, and reports from the various contractors are to the effect that the contracts are the largest and most valuable in the history of the city. Many buildings are contemplated which will have to wait until the middle of the summer before the contractors can get around to commence the work.

Every journeyman carpenter, stonemason, plasterer and members of the various trades are working full time and more men could be used. The scarcity of men for this class of work is one of the best barometers of the great trade conditions and prosperity that has taken hold of the city.

Work is progressing rapidly on St. Mary's. The building committee have decided to face the church with Menominee pressed brick of a brown red color. The brick is the best in the country and when faced the church will be one of the handsomest structures in the city. The trimming will be blue Bedford stone. The tower of the church will be one of the finest constructed pieces of building in this section. It will stand on an entirely separate foundation from the building and will be about 190 feet high. From the water table line to the spire it will be of brick, and the spire will be slate. The carpenters have the floors laid and are now at work on the roof trusses.

Real Estate Notes.

The Janesville Barb Wire Co. will soon commence a one story brick addition to their plant, 132x132.

Workmen are busily engaged in excavating the cellar for W. H. H. Macdonald's three story brick block on West Milwaukee street.

George F. Kimball's handsome residence in the Third Ward is now all inclosed.

The walls of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul freight house on North Main street are now well above ground.

The canning factory buildings are being rushed to completion as fast as a large force of men can hustle them.

The addition to the Grand Hotel is nearly ready for occupancy. The ceilings and hard wood floors are being put into the stores on the ground floor.

The work of remodeling the Jackman block at the Corner of Main and Milwaukee streets is well under way.

F. H. Jackman's handsome new residence is being built as fast as possible.

F. L. Wilbur will build a double house at the corner of South High and School streets.

Walter Helms has let the contract for two moderately priced residences to be erected on the south side of Racine street, two blocks east of Main street.

At least two new tobacco warehouses will be built during the coming season.

The ground will soon be ready for the new addition to the plant of the Janesville Machine Co.

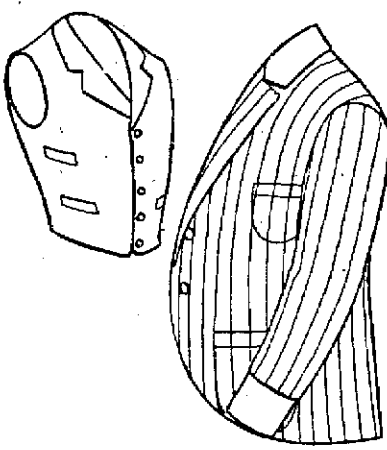

Numerous other houses and buildings that as yet only appear on paper will soon be started.

CLOTHING BIG BOYS.

HOW TO DO HOME TAILORING FOR YOUTHS.

Some Articles Which Mothers May Make For Their Almost Grown Up Sons—White Vests, Smoking Jackets, Pyjamas and Other Comforts.

[Copyright, 1901, by American Press Association.] A woman's usefulness is curtailed in the matter of making things for her big boys. Still, she can make pyjamas and smoking jackets and golfing jackets, and perhaps she can even dare a white vest. It takes but three-quarters of a yard of pique and the same of white cambric and five buttons to make a vest, and an afternoon is plenty of time. Duck or linen crash also makes nice vests, and when they are washed no boy knows that they are homemade. Boys seem to be as much afraid of homemade clothes as of homemade hair cuts. Some vests have the small turndown collar, but most of the summer ones are simply rounded at the neck. That simplifies vestmaking materially. An old vest furnishes the pattern and shows how the pockets are to be put in. A facing of the same is basted on the front, wrong side out, and this is then stitched and turned and basted again and stitched down. This is then felled under the lining, and the buttonholes are made. The pockets are to be put in before anything aside from the cutting is done.

Golfing jackets are made of Scotch flannel by preference, as that never shrinks, and most others do. This can be had in any design—that is to say, any width and color of stripe, but those in brown on white or with a dark blue stripe on a cream ground are the handsomest. The jacket requires no diagram, for it must have a pattern, and they are so easy to get from an old coat. The back is narrow and unlined, and the side seams are felled. There is a facing of the material beginning at the shoulder in front and extending to the bottom. This gives support to the buttons, of which there are four. The collar and cuffs are of white, and the pockets are stitched on the outside. These jackets, when of a good quality of material, cost high, but it takes but 2½ yards of flannel to make one, and, aside from the buttonholes, one can be made in an hour. If the wearer prefers his jacket to be in box form, it is easy to make it so by leaving the corners straight without rounding them off. Box shaped jackets are shown now and may be single or double breasted. An amateur would better avoid the double breasted ones.

Good pyjamas cost more money ready made than the most of us feel able to pay, and yet poor qualities are scarcely worth buying. They are easy to make, and all men agree that they are in every way preferable to nightshirts. And they are far easier to wash, which should count also in their favor.

There is a soft madras like the striped goods of that name, but this is loosely woven and slightly flecked like outing flannel, but is softer, and the colors are fast. That is most necessary, for after one has made the pyjamas one does not wish them to fade out with one or two washings. It takes about five yards of this to make a suit. If two suits of the same kind are made, then nine yards will make them. The drawers are cut like pantaloons. Into the hem of the top a drawing string is put. No buttons are required. They are open in front, but are simply hemmed.

The object of the pyjama suit is to have complete comfort, and so the pants are made the whole width of the cloth in each leg and are hemmed at the bottom, are left straight and shaped but little near the top. The jacket can be cut on the same lines as the golfing jacket, only there is no revers or turndown collar. The jacket closes by means of loops and frogs, or, if frogs are not obtainable, buttons can be used, but no buttonholes, for the finish of these requires a sort of fancy arrangement of white tubular tape, sewed on in such a way as to leave loops, which are put over the frogs or buttons to close the garment. There should be a small collar turned over at the throat and meeting there. A pocket set on the outside finishes the jacket. Both pantaloons and jacket have all seams felled, and the fronts are better faced far enough back to hold the buttons.

TWO SUITORS.

Her family had come to grief while she was still a child, and she had been brought up with the idea of being a governess. So here she was in this beautiful house, surrounded with luxury and doomed to spend her days in fagging over the children's lessons instead of riding, driving, visiting, entertaining and dressing beautifully upon all these occasions, like her pupils' sisters.

She could see no way of altering her position, either. She was not likely to meet any rich man who would fall in love with her. The most she could aspire to was to become the wife of a bank clerk on $1,000 a year.

The children's eldest sister came into the schoolroom one morning and made an announcement which filled them with wild excitement. They were to go to the picnic, and Miss Somers was to look after them.

The children and Miss Somers in the wagonette enjoyed themselves hugely, albeit Miss Somers' enjoyment was tempered by the fact that she was not clad in silk and chiffon. But it was impossible to resist the infectious delight of the children, and before long she found herself nearly as light hearted as they.

Two gentlemen standing near as she stepped down glanced with decided approval at the neat little figure and obtained an introduction at once.

She had heard the children mention both their names and knew that Mr. Beresford was possessed of a considerable income, while Captain Charles St. John had nothing more than his pay.

They had a lovely time altogether, and by the end of the day Captain St. John had fallen a victim to the charms of the little governess.

"She's not been used to much luxury, so she won't mind roughing it a bit," he soliloquized to himself as he smoked a cigarette preparatory to turning in that night.

Next day Mr. Beresford made his appearance in the schoolroom with a small picture.

"They don't object to my having a copy made of this, Miss Somers," he said. "So as you were kind enough to offer, I have brought it to you."

Mr. Beresford came every day, ostensibly to see how the picture progressed, but in reality to flirt with the governess. She amused him, and he fancied she was falling desperately in love with him.

Miss Somers made desperate little efforts to please him, and a wistful look would come into her eyes sometimes as she thought of the luxuries he could give her if he would. Mr. Beresford naturally interpreted the look otherwise and once or twice came very near to kissing the wistful little face, but he refrained manfully.

In the meantime Captain St. John was doing his level best to secure the good graces of the little governess, who seemed to herself to have become a person of importance all at once.

Miss Somers liked him—in fact, she rather more than liked him—but he could give her no luxuries, so she sternly repressed the liking and tried to conscientiously make it over to Mr. Beresford, without success.

The days passed, but Mr. Beresford said nothing to raise the hopes of the governess. She was beginning to look quite miserable, and he began to think himself a brute.

And Miss Somers was in just the very identical frame of mind. She knew Captain St. John was only waiting a favorable opportunity to make her give him a decided answer.

One day the opportunity came. She was in a pensive mood when he began to tell her in his outspoken way how awfully fond he was of her and how he thought she would be quite as happy with him, even if they were not very well off, as she would be earning her own living.

The luxuries Miss Somers had been dreaming in her possession began to fade rapidly from her mental horizon, and in their place appeared a good looking young fellow, with eyes a trifle anxious and very full of love indeed.

Somehow this figure came nearer and nearer and at last blocked up the entire view till there was no room for the trace of a luxury anywhere, and Miss Somers came rapidly to the conclusion, which future years did not contradict, that a pair of strong arms and a warm heart are better to go through life with than all the luxuries in the world.

Mr. Beresford, when he heard of it, of course, manlike, immediately made up his mind that he had only been waiting a suitable opportunity to propose himself and went away feeling a deeply injured man.

Wills in Ancient Greece.
Wills were introduced into Athens by Solon, though in many other parts of Greece they were discountenanced. Diogenes Laertius gives copies of the wills of several celebrated men, such as Plato, Aristotle and others. Before Solon's law no man was allowed to make a will, the wealth of the deceased belonging in certain proportion to the members of their families, and even after Solon only an Athenian citizen had the privilege of bequest, the estates of slaves and foreigners being confiscated for the public use.—All the Year Round.

The Chinaman Relies on "Chop."
Traders in the east say that "chop" is the Chinese equivalent for "trade-mark." The importance of a good "chop" in eastern trading may be realized from the fact that the Chinaman is most averse to buying manufactures with whose character he may be unacquainted from sample. He demands to see the whole consignment before he will purchase. But if the goods are of a "chop" with whose merits he is familiar he delivers his order with the greatest confidence.
